

This letter responds to a question regarding nexus. See Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 112 S. Ct. 1904 (1992). (This is a GIL.)

December 6, 2018

Dear Xxxx

This letter is in response to your letter received October 30, 2018, in which you requested information. The Department issues two types of letter rulings. Private Letter Rulings (“PLRs”) are issued by the Department in response to specific taxpayer inquiries concerning the application of a tax statute or rule to a particular fact situation. A PLR is binding on the Department, but only as to the taxpayer who is the subject of the request for ruling and only to the extent the facts recited in the PLR are correct and complete. Persons seeking PLRs must comply with the procedures for PLRs found in the Department’s regulations at 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.110. The purpose of a General Information Letter (“GIL”) is to direct taxpayers to Department regulations or other sources of information regarding the topic about which they have inquired. A GIL is not a statement of Department policy and is not binding on the Department. See 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.120. You may access our website at www.tax.illinois.gov to review regulations, letter rulings and other types of information relevant to your inquiry.

The nature of your inquiry and the information you have provided require that we respond with a GIL. In your letter you have stated and made inquiry as follows:

I am writing to obtain documentation from the State of Illinois verifying that COMPANY does not have to register for sales tax in the state of Illinois.

I have called the Illinois Department of Revenue and have been informed that COMPANY does not have to register with the State of Illinois of sales tax and that the Legal Services Office can provide documentation in writing verifying COMPANY does not have to register for sales tax. Can you review the facts I have listed below and provide documentation on whether COMPANY is required to register with the State of Illinois for Sales Tax? You can email the documentation or mail a letter to the address noted at the top of this letter.

List of Facts

- COMPANY is located in CITY, STATE.
- COMPANY has a remote employee working in Chicago, IL. This employee works in customer service and performs no sales functions.
- COMPANY does not have a physical presence in the State of Illinois.
- COMPANY is not registered to pay sales tax in the State of Illinois.
- If COMPANY ships to a customer in Illinois, the purchaser (customer) would have to pay use tax to the State of Illinois. COMPANY would not have to pay sales tax to the State of Illinois on this transaction.

DEPARTMENT’S RESPONSE:

The Illinois Retailers' Occupation Tax Act imposes a tax upon persons engaged in this State in the business of selling tangible personal property to purchasers for use or consumption. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.101. In Illinois, Use Tax is imposed on the privilege of using, in this State, any kind of tangible personal property that is purchased anywhere at retail from a retailer. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 150.101. These taxes comprise what is commonly known as “sales” tax in Illinois.

An “Illinois Retailer” is one who makes sales of tangible personal property in Illinois. The Illinois Retailer is then liable for Retailers' Occupation Tax on gross receipts from sales and must collect the corresponding Use Tax incurred by the purchasers. Our regulations were amended in response to the Illinois Supreme Court's decision in Hartney Fuel Oil Co. v. Hamer, 2013 IL 115130. The regulations specify the selling activities that trigger Retailers' Occupation Tax liability in Illinois.

Another type of retailer is a retailer maintaining a place of business in Illinois. The definition of a "retailer maintaining a place of business in this State" is described in 86 Ill. Adm. Code 150.201. This type of retailer is required to register with the State as an Illinois Use Tax collector. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 150.801. The retailer must collect and remit Use Tax to the State on behalf of the retailer's Illinois customers even though the retailer does not incur any Retailers' Occupation Tax liability.

The United States Supreme Court in Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 112 S.Ct. 1904 (1992), set forth the current guidelines for determining what requirements must be met before a person is properly subject to a state's tax laws on the basis of physical presence. The Supreme Court has set out a 2-prong test for nexus. The first prong is whether the Due Process Clause is satisfied. Due process will be satisfied if the person or entity purposely avails itself or himself of the benefits of an economic market in a forum state. Quill at 1910. The second prong of the Supreme Court's nexus test requires that, if due process requirements have been satisfied, the person or entity must have physical presence in the forum state to satisfy the Commerce Clause. A physical presence is not limited to an office or other physical building. Under Illinois law, it also includes the presence of any agent or representative of the seller. The representative need not be a sales representative. Any type of physical presence in the State of Illinois, including the vendor's delivery and installation of his product on a repetitive basis, will trigger Use Tax collection responsibilities. Please refer to Brown's Furniture, Inc. v. Zehnder, 171 Ill.2d 410 (1996).

The final type of retailer is the out-of-State retailer that does not have sufficient nexus with Illinois to be required to submit to Illinois tax laws. A retailer in this situation does not incur Retailers' Occupation Tax on sales into Illinois and is not required to collect Use Tax on behalf of its Illinois customers. However, the retailer's Illinois customers will still incur Use Tax liability on the purchase of the goods and have a duty to self-assess and remit their Use Tax liability directly to the State.

In your letter, you indicate that COMPANY has an employee working in Chicago, Illinois. Based on that information, it appears COMPANY meets the physical presence prong of the nexus test set out above and should be registered with the Illinois Department of Revenue.

I hope this information is helpful. If you require additional information, please visit our website at www.tax.illinois.gov or contact the Department's Taxpayer Information Division at (217) 782-3336.

Very truly yours,

Debra M. Boggess
